

City of Hesperia CALIFORNIA

Quite simply, Hesperia works for business.

Randall Lewis will tell you that one rule is sacrosanct in a business as complex and competitive as retail development: location is paramount. So when Lewis Retail Centers discovered Hesperia's ideal freeway visibility and pent-up market demand for new retail, High Desert Gateway was envisioned. Today, with the unqualified success of the first half of the 57-acre shopping center, a second phase is steamrolling ahead. The singular location has established Hesperia as the definitive gateway to the High Desert region.

"We are looking at more opportunities in Hesperia because the experience of working with them and doing business there has been so enjoyable."

"Hesperia stands out as a model. It's a city that says, we are going to be a proactive city, we want quality, we have good standards and we are business friendly."
